Background

Transform, the replacement for the East of England NHS Collaborative Procurement Hub's existing Commissioning Partner framework, is a collection of 11 refreshed and new service delivery lots with 20 leading providers.

The Transform framework has been put in place to help support publicly funded organisations (as beneficiaries of the framework) with timely and relevant advisory and support services.

Transform offers a legally compliant route to market, supporting trusts with their existing day-to-day service activity. It will support fully the evolving landscape of publicly funded services, including the drive towards service-user focused and patient-centric services.

Contract Benefits

Contracting authorities procuring through this framework should expect to see the following benefits:

- Cost transparency through a clear pricing structure
- The ability to select providers based on needs and support requirements
- Compliance and consistency with NHS Terms and Conditions
- Ability to direct award or carry out a mini-competition

The duration of call-off order contracts awarded under the framework can be for up to eight years at the discretion of the beneficiary using the framework, who can take into consideration the type of support needed and the complexity of their project.

The Hub is a collaborative NHS organisation that works with customers by using procurement and commercial expertise to drive value and efficiencies across the NHS.
